2004-05-25 10:17:50 by shedrock

We have released a blue version of our default theme (Chalet). This one is called Lorkan Blue. You just have to preview this theme to see how awesome it is. Visit us at: LORKAN THEMES This theme has a DUAL search feature located on the Navbar and allows you to perform the same search criteria as you would when using the Forum Search feature. It also has another search feature that allows you to search the Topics of your site as well. It has a nice shadow border effect as well built into the code. Try this theme out for yourself if you're a member of Lorkan Themes by selecting it from the "Theme Select" block NOTE: You can also adjust the width of this theme. It is currently set at 925px width and it can be changed to 800px if you need to. The theme.php file has the instructions on how to change it, and is very easy to make the change over. There is also an instruction file included in the theme folder.
