2004-10-28 16:05:08 by smokey

Hello Everyone,

This is a small update from All-Themez.com. We have really developed as a well respected Nuke community in the last few months. We are now one of the leading resource sites for PHP-Nuke Themes. We are now offering Public and Commercial Themes to our members. We now have over 200 public themes in our gallery. You can view them HERE. We have also setup a fabulous Theme Shop that offers some of the hottest commercial themes on the net. You can see all the themes at Diamond Designs

We are also encouraging all Theme Designers to join in and Display their products on our shop. If this sounds like something you might be interested in, please contact us at All-Themez.com

As always we are looking for staff members on the site. If you are experienced in Graphics, Nuke, Flash, or Programming and would like to be part of ever growing community please post in our forums in the related section.
