Public Version of NGNuke released.

2005-07-06 08:46:05 by lqd

We are proud to announce the public release of our own Nuke version based on Php-Nuke 7.6..

A "clear" Nuke release, aimed at showing the content of your site in a user friendly manner.

It's not only clear, it is fast, secure and easy to work with, for beginning Webmasters it is ideal since it comes pre-configured, so upload and add content, the way Nuke was meant to be from the start.

It has a ton of features implemented in a decent way, as well as all blocks / modules modified to present only the essencial information.. So your users will not get lost in the features offered but remain focussed on the message your site wants to deliver.

If you are starting to get curious, take a look at our site which operates on NGNuke as well. Click -here- to visit Maniaxdream.

You can find the file in our download section.
