

NukeAuction Revamped - testrun the newest version now

2007-03-08 08:09:43 by nukeevangelist

Travel over to www.6gun2.com/NukeAuction see the NukeAuction Revamped - celebrate the never ending success of one of the most powerful networks - celebrate the global network of invention. MBSimonds writes "That's right folks. Auction4Nuke has been dug out of the basement and a working auction module is back. For those of us who spent costly hours of debugging, finally a working auction module is back on the table."

New Features Added:

Scrolling Auction Block This module includes a block to scroll your auctions on your home page. The item image, title, current price, and a link to the auction is displayed.

Item thumbnails on auction home page. Live auctions will now have a thumbnail of the item on the auction home page.

Category thumbnails When browsing categories, any active auctions in those categories will now have a thumbnail of the item.

Feedback in forums Your members auction feedback rate can now be displayed in your forums next to their names.
